Daring Fliers Await Zero Hour

In Death-Defying Hop to Paris

Aboard Their Giant Planes

GIVES "LUCKY" A MIRROR
When Captain Charles Lindbergh, the "Flying Fool," broke the mirror of his periscope, Mrs. David Oliver presented him with the mirror in her vanity case. "Lucky" will use it in overseas flight.

OCEAN FLIERS READY TO HOP WHEN STORM GOES

New York to Paris airplane getting away from Roosevelt Field tomorrow seemed remote today, as unfavorable weather showed an ominous threatening to the elements anxious to be away on the long, long haul across the Atlantic.

Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, lone boreman of the air, while waiting for the weather to clear in mid-Atlantic, looked at reports with dismay. The Missouri flier goes it alone throughout and he can leave when the spirit and weather move him.

His has made no predictions of when that will be, contrasting himself with the statement that he will not deliberately fly into bad weather. Captain Lindbergh's mood is intended to enter the controversy publicly.

Distraction first cropped out over clouds of possible prize money and insurance coverage to provide for the flier's wife in case of accident, but this was amicably settled. The wind was so strong across the flying fields today that none of the three New York-to-Paris planes had been able to leave. Lindbergh was to go first, but it had been planned to conduct weather tests with Commander Byrd's America, going up with a load of 12,000 pounds. The America will be weighed to 14,000 pounds when it takes off for France.

Chance of any one of the three New York today to obtain a pass- port is the Customs House.

The American Trans-Oceanic Company, sponsors of the Byrd flight, has announced that Commander Byrd and his two companions will go "at the right time."

The Columbia, the owners say, is entirely subject to the whims of a fickle weather condition.

Forecasters State of the New York Weather Bureau said shortly after 10 a. m. that conditions today were not a bit better than they had been for the last few days.

It was hoped that Wednesday morning would bring the first opportunity to hop westward and the three-engine craft probably will be ready to start with the two single-motor monoplanes.

Chamberlain and Bendauid, with no sponsors of their flight, took on

Lindbergh Sleeps on His Feet or in Chair

The art of snatching a few minutes' sleep while in a standing posture is one of the many startling accomplishments of Charles "Lucky" Lindbergh, youngest contestant for trans-Atlantic flight honors, according to Lieutenant Richard E. Cobb of the Boston airport, a classmate of the "Flying Fool" at Kelly Field.

Lindbergh first demonstrated the ability before a crowded classroom on a hot mid-summer afternoon during his cadet days at the Texas Flying school and a master sergeant in charge of "skull practice," passed in open-mouthed amazement as the flying aviator tested back and forth while snatching gentle snores.

"Flying sessions were held from 7 to 11 a. m. in these days," said Lieutenant Cobb. "The cadets were pretty well tired out by the time classes got started in the afternoon and the worst part of a Texas summer made it all the more difficult to keep from falling into a doze during the lecture periods."

"The master sergeant spotted Lindbergh enjoying a peaceful snooze and he ordered him to stand for the remaining minutes of the class. Lindbergh eased himself up, grinning at the sergeant. He remained conscious for a few minutes and then he was snoring."

"We kidded him about it quite a lot, but he never lost that good humor or wide grin. He was always doing the unexpected and he made friends with everybody. He'll have all his old classmates rooting for him to reach Paris safely."

24 hours. It was announced today. According to meteorologists the present bad weather may continue for several days.

If any of the aviators hop off tomorrow they will have the protection of about 50 United States Shipping Board vessels which are enroute between America and Europe over the North Atlantic steamship lane.

Should the almanac get away tomorrow morning the ships will be notified by wireless and instructed to give every possible aid in the event any of the aviators meet with accident over the ocean. The average distance between the ships at the present time is 40 miles.

The Bellanca monoplane was taken from its hangar on Roosevelt flying field at 4 a. m. today, leading to reports that Lindbergh and Chamberlain were planning to hop off immediately, but officials of the Columbia Aircraft Corporation denied these reports.

There was considerable activity on both Roosevelt and Curtis flying fields.

Captain Lindbergh's monoplane was wheeled from its hangar at about the same time as the Bellanca monoplane.

The weather was misty over Long Island Sound today, but the planes postponed their hop-off for another day.

1,500 members in Boston and has branches scattered throughout the country, is devoted to the idea of "cooperative helpfulness." You pay an initiation fee of $20 together with $1 for the first month's dues. Then you pay $2 monthly. A flier is in on Boston to secure 5,000 members, which is the limit for the club, "according to officers of the club."

When Captain Goodwin called at the club's office today and talked with the main in charge, W. E. Wolland, who said he was an "organizer," Wolland told him that among other city and State officials who had mentioned the club's organization was Asst. Dist. Atty. Marshall who had "passed on it as O. K."

"That's a pipe dream," he said, "but I never talked with Wolland or anyone else in connection with the club. I never told Wolland that the club's proposition was all right."

He further told me before the club opened in Boston he got the O. K. from the State House. He also talked to Assistant District Attorney Maguire and to Captain Joseph Harriman at police headquarters. All these, he said, agreed the club was within the law and as it was non-profit and non-stock holding, a charter in Massachusetts would not be necessary."

The national headquarters of the club is in New York City at No. 851 Fifth avenue.

They made their today disclosed the fact that the national officers refused to discuss the affairs of the club. The New York officials had to have hard nothing to disclose from the Boston branch.

is a naval fleet of twenty-three ships, while the attacking sea force have 18 ships, including transports theoretically carrying a special landing army of 75,000 men.

The last official intelligence received by Major-General Preston Brown as he left Boston to come here and assume full command of all the defenses, on land and sea alike, was that the fleet had left the Hudson River for mobilization at sea under the guidance of Rear Admiral Charles G. Hughes aboard the Caspian Sea.

WILKES WATCHES "BATTLE."
Destroyers and airplanes are ready to make the landing of the enemy easy, or to oust the army with a false attack far from the landing point picked out by Admiral Hughes, while coast planes will take the air as the eyes of the defense, and heavy Coast Artillery guns will menace the invaders.

Close secrecy that cloaks the sea forces and their tactically superior numbers has the army men on the alert, and at Port Adams government headquarters, the general staff, keenly watching for every move to flash orders for the troops to get on the move.

Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilson and Major-General Hanson, president of the Army War College, are aboard the battleship with other observers to note the effect of the smashing attack of the fleet.

FIVE YOUTHS CHARGED WITH STEALING AUTOS
Five youths were arraigned in District Court today, two charged with unlawfully appropriating autos. Their cases were continued to May 24.

According to police, the five were riding in a stolen car when arrested. They admitted having "appropriated" a number of autos and several motor keys were found on one of them. They are William, 18, and John Gochan, 17, of Carson street; Theodore, 16, of Newmarket street; Neil McGarrigan, 14, of Harborview street, and Edward Chazy, 14, of Carson street. The last three will be arraigned as delinquents.

SWEETLY SILENT ON LABOR'S DONOVAN QUERY
General E. Leroy Sweetser, commissioner of labor and industries, today refused to make any comment on a demand by the Central Labor Union that he disclose the names of so-called labor men who have endorsed the disclosure by the commissioner of Miss Mary Donovan.

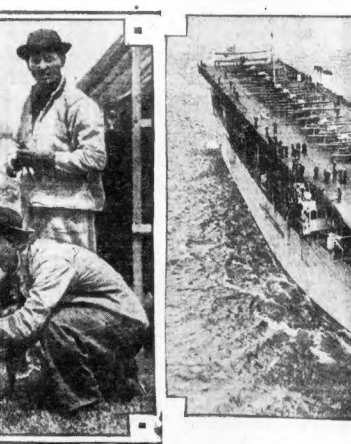

Miss Donovan, an inspector of the department, was let out after a hearing on charges of neglect of duty.

two matrons in the county jail here beginning her "last ride." "I'm bidding you goodbye now, but I hope to see you again," she said. "If everything goes the way I hope, I'll be back here and maybe when I come back I won't be going out again this way."

Mrs. Snyder's cheerfulness disappeared as she was manacled to her guard. As her machine sped through the dense throngs she wept.

Outside the jail, there was no demonstration by the people who stood in the streets at crowded windows and roofs. There were only occasional murmurs of sympathy from the machine containing Gray.

After the procession had traveled a few blocks, Mrs. Snyder visited her composure. She threw her head up and smiled and nodded at the crowds.

The murderers were dressed in the black ensemble she had worn during the trial.

She kept her hands folded while her knees as if to hide the tears.

Gray planned to have the machine raised on its machine as soon as they left the city.

Mrs. Snyder is ready to be baptized in the death house, according to the Rev. Father Murphy, chaplain of the jail.

It was her first and only first-hand interview given to a newspaper man. I am pledged not to disclose all that she said to me. She is writing the story of her life and has signed a contract to say anything to anyone. But this much she authorized me to release.

She still loves Judd Gray—passionately, blindly.

She forgives Judd Gray—everything, in spite of everything.

Ruth "At Home" for Her Friends on 3 Days Each Week

Owens, N. Y., May 16 (A.P.)—Warden Lawes of Sing Sing prison today announced that Mrs. Snyder's visiting days will be Monday, Wednesday and Friday, while Judd Gray's will be the regular visiting days, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. This change was made, he said, to prevent conflict and embarrassment.

When told he could not keep two packages of cigarettes in his pockets, Gray seemed despondent, but cheered up when told he could buy others in the prison.

"How do you feel, Judd?" Gray asked, "fine, all things considered."

Ossining Crowd Fails to See Mrs. Snyder

Owens, N. Y., May 16 (U.S.)—Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, condemned slayers of Albert Snyder, the woman's husband, and one King, were before noon today.

Accompanied by an escort of motorcycle police, the two automobiles containing the prisoners swept through the main street of the village, and into the gates of the prison. The shades of the cars were tightly drawn, and the crowds that gathered up when told he could buy others in the prison.

Without stopping at the warden's office, which is the general rule, the cars went straight into the prison grounds. The doors changed quickly shut, and Gray and Mrs. Snyder had entered their final place of confinement until the end of the day when they will be taken to the electric chair.

Good news was heard to find. Employers are constantly looking for trained men to fill the jobs of the men who have been released from the classified A-1 classification.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY EVENTS

Coaching Regains Favor of Smart Set; Eleonora Sears Is Chief Whip

MISS ELEONORA SEARS "TOOLING" A COACH AND FOUR over the old Taunton place will be a sight to gladden the eyes this summer. Rumor has it that she will be the "hip" on the way of the regular runs of the famous coach "Liberty" between the smart Hope Club in Providence and the Jacobs Hill Hunt. Rumor also has it that Mrs. Robert B. Almy, the former Miss Rosamond Almy, who is another of the Boston Smart Set's export horsewomen, will hold the reins over a mettlesome four on club runs.

IT IS JOHN MCENTEE BOWMAN OF NEW YORK AND PORT Chester who is loaning the "Liberty" to the Jacobs Hill Hunt. And, officially, it will make its first appearance next Saturday at the Jacobs Hill Hunt Show, with Benjamin L. Cook on the box. Boston will see the "Liberty" along with the two days of racing at the Country Club in June, for the coach and the driver will be one of the features of these brilliant and sporting occasions.

REVIVAL OF THIS SOCIAL RECREATION OF COACHING IS keeping Providence fashionable on the out vive. Likewise the Boston horse set, and New Yorkers as well. Famous whips and famous coaches will make the trip this summer. Young William H. Vanderbilt intends to drive the Vanderbilt coach "Venture," and F. Ambrose Clark is another whip on the list. Harry Worcester Smith of Ledyard, Worcester, is still another. An everyone knows, the "Venture" is the title old couple's William Vanderbilt inherited from his father, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

BOSTON IS MUCH INTERESTED IN THE HUNT SHOW ON Saturday. There are more than 200 entries, and Boston has a goodly representation therein. Mrs. Horace Christy is sending down a string of blue ribbons, and some of the Reginald Bird horses will probably be sent down. Tower Hill Farm timber tappers and the Charles V. R. Cushman string will be represented. Miss Allen is sending "Pride of Kildare" and "Blue Fern," and all the Providence stables of note are entered.

SPEAKING OF THE COUNTRY CLUB RACES, B. NASON HAMLIN and the other potentates of the races are even so early setting the wheels in motion. Letters have gone out to all the boarders of last year about his reservations this year. Practically all the subscribers of last year will be in the grandstands with their parties on the 10th and the 17th of June. Messrs. Augustus F. Goodwin, John R. Sturtevant, Bayard T. Hamlin and B. Nason Hamlin and the other gentlemen are planning a big two days, something to even out last year's high record.

MRS. NORMAN W. CABOT OF MILTON SAILED AWAY TO England yesterday on the Scythia, and just the day before a Boston contingent went out on the Paris. Trans-Atlantic sailings are taking on almost summer time proportions, so large and so important are the lists. Stephen V. R. Crosby is aboard the Paris. And so is Nell Rastoun. Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Dodge are passengers on the giant liner. Miss Rosamond Hill-Smith and her brother, Francis Hill-Smith, are out bound. Mrs. Frank Foster Skilling and her son, Frank Foster Skilling, Jr., are on the Paris en route for England.

THE VERY COMFORTABLE AMOUNT THAT GOES INTO COFFERS of the Free Hospitals for Women is a matter of congratulation to the energetic group that planned and put over the "Cotton" Ball so successfully. Such handsome and such generous as came out for the affair! Pictorially it was an even greater success than financially and nothing could have been more original than Mrs. Thordike Howe's "Cotton Ball" costume, or Mr. Howe's "Boll Weevil" costume.

IN A WIDE LEOPARD HAT, AND A ROBE SATEEN GOWN THAT swayed gracefully on its "hoop" Mrs. Chester Wardwell was a striking Cotton Ball figure. The soft robe and the Romney lines of the hat were becoming as could be to their wearer. Another delightful costume worn was the petite Mrs. Theodore Frothingham, and Spanish creation that might well have been a part of Reginald Almy's wardrobe. It was all of white tulle with a spray of lilac and an exquisite mantle, sweeping from high comb. Miss Ellen I. Elliott took her costume inspiration from Persia. A giraffe of gold chain, black and roper of pearls made up the original statement. Richard Sauger, of Sauger, New York, went to the Cotton Ball as a seller of hats, and round cap typical of a life on the busy deep.

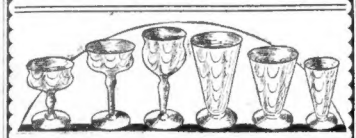

NEW RITZ-CARLTON TO BE INSPECTED TOMORROW

A pre-opening inspection of the new Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Arlington street, opposite the Public Gardens, will be made tomorrow by newspapermen on invitation from the management, and tomorrow evening there will be a dinner to New England Governors and other guests. The formal opening is on Wednesday, the doors opening at 7 p. m., at which time more guests will be booked and the restaurant opened.

Old Resident Lauds Mayor on Prompt Ash Collections

Mayor Nichols is proud of at least one achievement during his tenure of office. His chest swells today as he hands this letter to newspapermen at their daily conference at City Hall.

"I want to assure you that never during the past thirty-seven years have I lived in this house where our ashes have been so well cared for. Not once during this winter have we been neglected, which is the first time in my memory."

It was written by Fred W. Connelley, 11 Fernside place, Dorchester.

GET CARLOAD OF N. E. SHOES FOR FLOOD VICTIMS

A carload of shoes will leave Boston on Wednesday enroute to the Salvation Army relief headquarters at Vicksburg, Miss. The shoes have been given the Salvation Army for distribution among the Mississippi flood refugees by the shoe jobs and shoe manufacturers of New England.

A week ago Eugene A. Richardson, editor of the Shoe Buyer, conferred with Colonel Stephen A. Marshall, head of the Salvation Army in New England, as to the need among the flood refugees for shoes. Colonel Marshall immediately wired New York headquarters of the Army and a few hours later a message was received from Vicksburg. "All kinds of shoes badly needed."

Mr. Richardson at once sent an appeal to every shoe jobber and manufacturer in New England. Today the first batch of shoes began rolling up to the Shoe Buyer headquarters at No. 184 Lincoln street. By tomorrow night enough shoes will be on hand to fill a freight car and on Wednesday the car will be started on its way South.

Coast Guards Save 1,300 in Mississippi Flood

Memphis, La., May 15 (A.P.)—Rescuing the life of Canadian voyagers in handling their surf boats amid the treacherous whirlpools and roaring rapids of the cresswens, 200 muscular and fearless members of the coast guard rescued 1,300 men, women and children from crumbling levees and floating house tops of the West Atchafalaya basin.

Performing feats in 20 feet surf boats which many veteran boatmen of the Mississippi would not dare, the coast guard crews repeatedly shot their small craft through the waves to take families to safety. Another branch of Uncle Sam's service came through the Bayou Des Glaises crisis with colors bright—fliers, naval and marine aviators, flying eight and nine hours at a stretch, have carried on an almost incessant search for marooned persons.

INSURANCE ON GOODYEAR TIRE AUTOS UPHELD

Rates established by Insurance Commissioner Wesley E. Monk under the compulsory automobile insurance act have been sustained by Thomas L. Wilson, sitting in master.

The report of Master Wilson will be submitted, next Saturday, to the Supreme Court, into which tribunal the case came many months ago on petition of four Boston taxicab companies and John H. Smith, operating a trucking business under the name Youden, Smith & Hooking.

In the petition it was alleged that classification of rates and premium charges were "unfair, unjust and unreasonable" against owners of taxis and trucks.

The case had been in hearing before the master since last October.

W. W. WINS, BUT 'RENEWAL' IS HELD VALID

Washington, May 16 (A.P.)—The Kansas criminal syndicalism law was upheld today by the United States Supreme Court.

The question reached the court in an appeal of Harold D. Plake, convicted under the statute because of his activities in Kansas as an organizer for the I. W. W.

The court held, however, that membership in and work as an organizer for the I. W. W. did not constitute an offense under the statute which the State could punish, and which Plake was guilty of advocating criminal syndicalism.

MAYOR NICHOLS ASKED TO 'PERSONALLY' FIND FRIERS

"Your French plane is on a mountain around St. John, Newfoundland. Their sea rescue boat has gone and go find your brothers. I am sure they are still alive and will find them there. They can't take off."

Mayor Nichols' only comment was: "I am neither a high flyer nor a Frenchman. I am a Bostonian. I am a Bostonian."

BENTLEY SAYS CHIDED WIFE 'TOOK A FIT'

John M. Bentley, debonaire Tufts graduate, today on the witness stand in a divorce case before Probate Court, denied emphatically every charge that has been made against him by his pretty wife, Edna, who is suing him for a divorce on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

This was the fifth day of the trial. While on the stand reciting her story last week Mrs. Bentley collapsed several times.

Today, under direct examination, Bentley insisted that he never once forced his attentions on his wife. He denied that he ever used violence toward his wife or that he applied more money on clothing than did his wife.

Story of Girl Who Demanded Full "Pay" From Life

CHAPTER 1

ROSE had the corner of Federal and Franklin streets on her way to the South Street. She felt harassed by a most annoying taxi.

Suddenly her path was blocked. She felt a shadowy figure crouching at her feet, and she saw a flash of light and a gasp of surprise.

"What are you doing?" she asked. "Why are you staring at me?"

"I am waiting for you," the shadowy figure said. "I have been waiting for you for a long time."

"Who are you?" she asked. "What do you want from me?"

"I am the spirit of the street," the shadowy figure said. "I am the spirit of the city. I am the spirit of the people. I am the spirit of the life."

"What do you mean?" she asked. "What are you saying?"

A political cartoon by Schmidt. In the foreground, two men are sleeping peacefully in beds. The bed on the left is labeled 'MALONEY' and the bed on the right is labeled 'SHARKEY'. The man in the 'MALONEY' bed is holding a small object, possibly a pipe or a cigarette. In the background, a large, dense crowd of people is gathered, some looking towards the beds. A man in a top hat and a uniform, possibly a police officer or a soldier, is walking through the crowd. The scene is set outdoors, with a large, dark, irregular shape in the background that could be a building or a large crowd. The cartoon is signed 'SCHMIDT' in the bottom left corner.

Blow-by-Blow Story of the Maloney-Sharkey Bout--In Pictures

On next Friday morning, the Boston Evening American will print in the HOME EDITION, two full pages of pictures illustrating the punches that won the fight. Ed Keeley, the South Boston heavyweight, the man whom Faolino refuses to fight, will take the part of Jim Maloney. Henry La Mar, United States amateur heavyweight champion in 1925 and 1926, will take the part of Sharkey. As the blow by blow story comes over the wire, Keeley and La Mar will illustrate the telling blows. This feature will give Boston's fight fans the first and most vivid account of the fight.

As soon as the actual fight pictures arrive, they will be substituted for the posed pictures. In this way the Boston Evening American readers will obtain the best and most complete story of the fight.

In addition to the pictures, there will be a special story by Jack Conway, the best known fight expert in the country; another story by Nick Flatley, Sports Editor of the Evening

American, and a full account of all the proceedings by Damon Runyon.

A SPECIAL EDITION OF THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN WILL BE PUBLISHED AS SOON AS THE FIGHT IS OVER.

Read the Boston Evening American if you want the best and most complete story of the Maloney-Sharkey bout. Besides this, a blow by blow story will be megaphoned to the crowds in Winthrop Sq. in front of the Boston American building on Thursday night. Be there!

HELENS FIGHT FOR LIFE.—"I was torn w waf at the party and I was a fine girl."

THE grandfather, while away from home, was gambling, in a frantic effort to retrieve for Nell's sake some of the fortune he had once possessed. But he lost consistently and the fever the game had him in its grip.

MEDBURY SAYS--

By JOHN P. MEDBURY
 NOW that the weather is getting milder, thousands of tramps are beginning to bloom on our country roads.
 It keeps the sheriff busy picking the blossoms and putting them in iron cages.
 THE average john looks in the winter and casts in the summer. During the week and then take Sunday afternoon off.
 HE walked right into an employment agency the other morning. He thought it was the Salvation Army.
 THEY gave him the address of a place where he could get some work and he thanked them for the warning.
 HE belongs to the American Federation of Labor and only joins the unions that are out on strike.
 HE isn't afraid of work but he doesn't believe in going around with a club on his shoulder.
 SOME tramps have automobiles but most of them do their touring in motor wagons.
 A HONDA traveled over 3,000 miles last year in these one-day affairs.
 THIS is the only way to go motor-ing. Every police station is a tourist camp.
 ONE vagrant said he likes to loaf in Kansas because the roads out there are so soft.
 ALL the hoboheads are unshaved.
 THEY have moustached delinquents.
 HE claims he never had a corn until he came to New York. He says the roads would be all right if the contractors would nail feathers in with the cement.
 AMERICA is crowded with hoboos every summer, and while a bull dog is a good protection, a collar of iron and a head of water will scare away the most daring tramp.
 W. MEDBURY, 21 Cambridge Avenue, Quincy Point, Mass.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for published smart sayings of "clever" children.
 William's mother was shocked to find her son one Sunday morning sitting on his bed in the bath.
 "William, don't you know it is wicked to sit on the bed on Sunday?" she demanded.
 "This isn't a pleasure trip," said William, calmly. "This is a misadventure here in the bath."

LOVE is like dynamite; mighty power when you take it seriously, but awfully dangerous when you play with it and fling it around carelessly.
 Somehow, marriage seems to be nearly every woman's pass time.

is a monument to some disaster! with a dead silence.
 "Before marriage," a girl sits on the front seat and tells a man how THRILLED she is at his driving after marriage she sits on the rear seat and tells him how "drivish" it makes her.

No man is such a bitter woman as the one who burns inside all his life, and then wakes up to discover that he has married one whose head is full of sawdust, and whose only line of escape is to...

"Glenn some money."
 "There are lots of 'temptations' in the average office pot than in the average home!"
